

Leave and Benefits

Willis Towers Watson (WTW) is proud of the benefit programs we provide our colleagues and their family members as part of our overall Total Rewards offering. WTW's global Total Rewards framework ensures all plans and programs align to a common set of guiding principles while providing the flexibility to adapt to local market practices.

Guiding principles

At its core, our Total Rewards program is designed to:

- attract and compete in the local marketplace;
- promote an inclusive and diverse working environment and workforce;
- allow for meaningful choice, where appropriate, to address individual needs;
- clearly communicate benefits, so that plans are well understood; and
- be maintained on a compliant basis and monitored by our governance processes.

How we invest in our talent

WTW invests significant resources in our most important asset – our colleagues. Our Total Rewards program ensures colleagues are protected in the event of accident or illness, have sufficient paid time off and have the opportunity to accumulate capital for personal needs and retirement. We are also committed to flexibility at work, including modified work arrangements and schedules (e.g. flex time, part-time, work-from-home) that enable colleagues to stay focused on their clients and business needs, while balancing personal commitments.

Colleague feedback mechanisms

WTW regularly collects feedback from colleagues on our Total Rewards. Input is also provided by various local inclusion and affinity groups focused on topics such as physical well-being, mental health and financial wellness. Additionally, Inclusion and Diversity (I&D) is involved in all efforts, with formal I&D Councils established in every geography.

Effective plan management

With the support of our Total Rewards team in Human Resources (HR), our local HR staff and leaders, and our vast consulting network, WTW stays on top of emerging trends and regulations in the ever-changing global Total Rewards landscape to deliver a consistent approach across the organization. These efforts are aided by software systems that allow us to collect and consolidate plan design and administrative information, enabling us to generate summary reports and compare against survey or other data, as needed.

Governance

WTW's Total Rewards program is supported by a highly structured governance process. With the support of corporate staff partnering with local teams, plan design change recommendations and compliance activities are reviewed by multi-functional committees (e.g. HR, Finance, business leaders, subject matter experts) at higher organizational levels outside of the country. Recommendations are typically subject to reviews at the region, geography, and/or Operating Committee level of WTW. This review process helps WTW properly balance the needs of its plan participants with those of the business.
