

Decode cyber risk.

Insurance provided by

Aerospace Cyber Guard

Have you backed up your cybersecurity?

Cybersecurity is a top concern; however, many have yet to develop a cyber risk solution, especially in the general aviation industry.

Willis Towers Watson detected this cyber coverage gap and, in partnership with Berkley Cyber Risk Solutions, created Willis Towers Watson Aerospace Cyber Guard—your tailored, general aviation cyber solution.

Providing a new perspective

The Willis Towers Watson Transportation Index provides a boardroom view of the transportation industry as seen by senior executives across the globe. Digital vulnerability and rapid technological advancement represent one of the top five megatrends, suggesting that very few companies, if any, remain fully in control of the effectiveness of their cyber response.

This cyber insurance solution is provided by one or more insurance company subsidiaries of W. R. Berkley Corporation. The precise coverage afforded is subject to the terms and conditions of the actual policies issued. In North America, this product will be offered through licensed subsidiaries of Willis North America Inc., such as Willis of New York, Inc. or Willis of Canada, Inc.

Delivering a simple solution

The financial and operational impact of cyber breaches can be devastating. Aerospace Cyber Guard helps you mitigate these threats and more effectively manage your people, capital and technology risks. This comprehensive, first-party cyber policy allows you to operate more confidently in this uncharted territory and ultimately protect your brand in case of a cybersecurity attack.
