

Ports and terminals

Global Marine

Who buys this insurance?

Port authorities, harbour authorities, terminal operators, depot operators, stevedores, wharfingers and warehouse keepers. Each policy is designed to suit your requirements shaped by your specific operations. The principal areas of cover are liability, property, equipment and business interruption, but cover for other marine related risks, such as terrorism, can also be included as a packaged solution.

Our specialist and in depth experience, enhanced by our analytical approach and access to numerous port and terminals insurers, enables us to provide the insurance programmes you need.

We can also arrange pre-risk surveys and offer loss prevention and risk management services including NAT CAT analysis.
